

Knocked Out Tooth

An adult tooth can be reimplanted. Pick up the tooth by its chewing end.

Rinse it off with lukewarm water, then put the tooth back into its socket or place it in between the tooth and gum. Seek dental care immediately for reimplantation.

Control the bleeding by placing a sterile gauze pad in the injured tooth socket and apply pressure by having the victim bite down.